Description

CI msys2 build has "make -j$(nproc) snapshot" to build installers. "-j$(nproc)" does not really make sense there. It's the recursive execution of make to compile freeciv as part of constructing the installer package where the concurrency needs to take place - and by default it does. The default for 'make snapshot' is to call compiling with 'make -j$(nproc)', so the CI script need not to do anything in this respect.

Clean this out.
