| Description Bubble Shooter was formerly known as Puzzle Bobble 2, produced in 1995 by game creator Taito Corporation. The attraction of this game lasted and in 2001 it was raised to a new level and named Bubble Shooter . How to play this game is extremely easy, you just touch and hold your finger to adjust. Aim to shoot bubbles of the same color towards each other. It takes a minimum of 3 balls to touch each other to break them and score points. If you have ever played the popular dinosaur egg game, this game is similar to how to play. Maybe many people will think that old games will gradually lose their place and are no longer relevant with time. However, that is not entirely true, it can be seen that the bubble shooter game after many years of launch still receives the love of players. Let's learn how to play a bubble shooter game to get a high score in the article below. | |
